

POWDER PLANT FOR SAN PEDRO

El Paso, Ariz., May 8.—At last there appeared determination that the great work near Land station, on the Southwestern railroad, in the San Pedro valley, are to be a powder plant, designed especially to invade the field heretofore held by outside dynamite factories covering the southern Arizona mining districts.

Immense quantities of dynamite are used annually in the mines of Bisbee, Globe, Miami, Clifton, Ajo and Jerome.

It is said the plant is being moved from a West Virginia location, where it had been built for war work, and that the management thus far has been in the hands of C. E. Miller, manager of the Inspiration property before the war and for years in the Phelps-Dodge service in Yavapai county at Morenci.

Woman in Overalls Works Way Everywhere

New York, May 6.—A slight figure clad in mackintosh and brown overalls was brought before magistrate Silbermann charged with disorderly conduct and masquerading as a man.

"I am a woman," protested Henrietta, she said, "and I call myself Harry and wear overalls because I find it easier to get work as a man. I have done manual labor in Birmingham and Chicago, Philadelphia—all over, and I have no harm in it either."

Miss Wilson doffed her overalls, and a mass of blond hair tumbled to her waist, and she was suddenly revealed as a very comely person with big blue eyes.

Sheriff, By Leap a la Fairbanks, Gets His Man

Springfield, Ill., May 8.—You got to be fast of foot to be a deputy sheriff. That is why so many detectives wear rubber heels. Anyway, deputy sheriff Dieckman went to Mrs. Mercedes Dieckman's home to arrest her husband, who, she said, had come from St. Louis to kill her. When Dieckman saw Dickerson approach the house he made a quick dash for the alley, same coat, vest and hat, via the kitchen door, taking part of the kitchen door screen with him in his haste. Dickerson followed in a Douglas Fairbanks and captured the recalcitrant Dieckman after a short and swift fight up the alley by making a flying leap and landing on Dieckman's back. Dieckman is in jail now thinking over his alleged threat at homicide.

$100,000 Inheritance Won't Change Lives

Freeport, Ill., May 8.—A windfall of $100,000 is not going to mean much of a change in the manner of living of Mr. and Mrs. Fred E. Davis, of this city. Mr. Davis will stick to his desk as an accountant in the office of a local manufacturing company, and he and his wife will continue to live in the little cottage, in which they now make their home. They have no social ambitions.

Mrs. Davis received a notice recently that she is to receive a legacy of $100,000 from the estate of an uncle, Charles N. Patrick, who died in New York City recently. In his will Patrick told that he was leaving his worldly goods to those who had shown him love and affection and who he believed were worthy of any benefit he could bestow upon them.
